Description

This elegant sterling silver pin brooch features a refined Art Deco inspired design decorated with black enamel and sparkling crystals. The contrasting enamel panels provide a dramatic backdrop that enhances the brilliance of the stones, creating a striking geometric composition.

The design reflects the bold symmetry and decorative balance associated with the Art Deco period. Clean lines and structured forms give the brooch a distinctive architectural character while maintaining a refined and timeless appearance.

This brooch has been handcrafted in sterling silver using traditional jewellery-making techniques. The enamel is carefully applied and the crystals precisely set, while the piece is hand finished and polished to achieve a smooth and balanced surface that highlights the detailing of the design.
